Voyage Descriptions – Antarctica 2015

AKADEMIK SERGEY VAVILOV, ONE OCEAN VOYAGER

Our dedication to creating more time along the Antarctic peninsula has come forth by utilizing new ports of call and expanding our itineraries. Join us onboard as we transit the southern ocean with fresh eyes while gazing at increased numbers of penguin (eight different species) and seabird species. Tabular icebergs just got more accessible on 90% of our voyages. The photographic and wildlife opportunities available here, are truly extraordinary. Experiential travel onboard has never been better for small group experiences—the options are endless, and your choice of activities is completely up to you.

SOUTH GEORGIA “IN-DEPTH” Labelled as the southern Galapagos, South Georgia is like no other destination on earth. On this unique 13-night opportunistic foray into the wilds of South Georgia an expanded itinerary committed to exploration takes hold. With four breeding species of penguin, 25 breeding species of birds (one of which is the South Georgia Pipit, endemic to South Georgia), nesting albatross, as well as massive elephant and frisky fur seals, this exploratory voyage is a true wildlife extravaganza.

ULTIMATE ANTARCTICA—AMONGST EMPERORS & KINGS Using ports of call in King George Island, Antarctica and Stanley, Falkland Islands this 11 or 12-night voyage offers the exceptional beauty of Antarctica as well elusive bird species breeding in the Falkland Islands. We anticipate the opportunity to view and photograph at least four species of penguin (chinstrap, adeliel, Gentoo and king) ranging from 18-37 inches in height. Our itinerary explores the wondrous backdrop and wildlife of the Antarctic Peninsula, the Northern edge of the Weddell Sea and the brilliant tabular ice that comes out of that region, as well as the Falkland Islands—home to both nesting albatross and king penguins.

ANTARCTIC PENINSULA EXPLORER—FALKLANDS Using ports of call in Stanley, Falkland Islands and King George Island, Antarctica, this 10-night itinerary features an extended period of time along the Antarctic Peninsula. With only one large sea crossing, we have increased the amount of time available to explore the islands, continent and remote bays of the Antarctic Peninsula. Further options to camp onshore, tackle extended hikes while exploring and taking pictures have increased with this extended itinerary. The additional excursion days allow for longer periods off the ship as well as more time to explore areas of interest. Charter flights from Punta Arenas are included in our pricing.

FALKLANDS & SOUTH GEORGIA Sailing in and out of Stanley, Falkland Islands this 14-night departure focuses primarily on key wildlife in the Falklands and the entire eastern archipelago of South Georgia. Arriving into this area mid-season provides superabundant numbers of king penguins, elephant seals, fur seals and albatross. With efforts to keep chicks and pups from nipping at our boots, our aim is to maximise the onshore opportunities for both photography and hiking.

MARINE MAMMALS IN ANTARCTICA Through collaborative research between Dr. Ari Friedlaender (Marine Laboratory of Duke University) and One Ocean Expeditions, heightened knowledge and awareness has been generated on humpback, minke and orca whales along the Antarctica Peninsula during these 10-night voyages. With vast krill swarms found later in the season, the waters of Antarctica are abundantly full with marine mammals searching to ‘top up’ their food stores for long migrations back to the tropics. The exciting inclusion of our proprietary ‘GRUVA’ (GoPro Underwater Viewing Apparatus) technology in every zodiac enhances our marine mammal encounters. Paired with hydrophones, this technology provides unparalleled underwater viewing to watch live, or after the experience back on board.

Voyage Descriptions – Antarctica 2015

AKADEMIK IOFFE, ONE OCEAN NAVIGATOR

Our dedication to creating more quality time in Antarctica on every departure is always a priority for us. Akademik Ioffe offers our traditional transit of the Drake Passage, with sailing dates coming into and out of Ushuaia, Tierra Del Fuego, Argentina—the gateway to the Beagle Channel and Argentinean Patagonia. With our small group excursions and passenger led options, our adventure concierges are on hand to help you can decide how your trip unfolds; each and every day. Join us onboard as we transit this historical sea faring ocean, rich with marine mammals and notably the most vibrant ocean in the world.

ANTARCTICA OFF THE BEATEN TRACK An extended itinerary consisting of 12 nights along the Antarctic Peninsula, we bring all adventure options to life. Overnight sea kayaking, full day ski touring, expedition photography, and expedition snow-shoeing are only some of the brilliant options available on this specialty departure. Pairing the best adventure with the most remote region on the planet—Antarctica Off the Beaten Track.

FALKLAND ISLANDS, SOUTH GEORGIA, ANTARCTICA You may feel as we do that if you make the journey to the ends of the earth you may as well stay awhile. This epic all encompassing 18 or 19 night voyage into the wildlife epicenters of the southern ocean is nothing short of awe-inspiring magic. Encountering hundreds of thousands of penguins, countless marine mammals, nesting albatross, not to mention colossal icebergs this voyage is a must-do for wildlife enthusiasts and photographers alike. In addition to our expedition team onboard we also have our Enhanced Photography program on these voyages which offers two dedicated photographers to assist in maximising your photographic output. On our special Photographic Symposium departure in November, the itinerary is honed specifically to ‘follow the light’. With four professional photographers covering a variety of subjects specific to polar photography this voyage offers incredible exposure to great support and feedback when shooting in a new environment. Led by this incredible and proven team the photographic prowess is sure to inspire and support all of your photographic goals.

ANTARCTIC PENINSULA ADVENTURE Join us on this incredible 10-night Antarctic Peninsula adventure. Towering glaciers, mountainous landscapes, massive icebergs, and the option to choose your favourite activities each and every excursion. By breaking into small special interest groups (which you can mix and match every day) we discover Antarctica and its amazing wildlife through photography, zodiac excursions, zodiac cruising, camping, kayaking, hiking and walking.

ANTARCTIC CIRCLE VOYAGE Approaching the Antarctic Peninsula with far south reaching experiences is our goal on this 13-night voyage. Designed for those who want to go farther south amidst pancake and frazil ice, while crossing 66 degrees 33 minutes south. An epic achievement revered by many, achieved by few. We greet the Antarctic Circle out on deck with champagne and GPS, and then make our way by zodiac to the shoreline for a ‘below the circle’ landing or zodiac cruise.

AKADEMIK SERGEY VAVILOV
